PROBE OF NAVAL AFFAIRS ORDERED BY SENATE

SIMS' BROADSIDE IS HELD BY DEMOCRATS AS OPENING GUN OF POLITICAL BATTLE

"Tirade" Against Daniels Interpreted as Effort to Discredit War Administration.

SECRETARY OF NAVY DEMANDS INQUIRY

Admiral's Attitude Contrasted With That of General Pershing on Similar Occasion

(International News Service.)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 19.—A full investigation of the charges made by Rear Admiral Sims, regarding the American naval policy during the war, was ordered today by the senate naval affairs committee. The committee authorized the medal award investigation committee to inquire fully into the facts placed before that committee by Admiral Sims on Saturday, that he was sent to France with orders not to let the British pull the wool over his eyes. The conduct of the war by the navy department also will be gone into. Secretary Daniels said that he would be glad to have the senate make a full investigation of the navy. "Every letter and every order and everything the navy did is here for their inspection," he said.

(International News Service.)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 19.—Secretary of the Navy Daniels today intimated that Admiral Sims may be forced to explain and prove many of the charges he has made against the naval policy.

"A thorough investigation should be made of these charges," Mr. Daniels said. "If the senate doesn't make it, some other tribunal may be asked to."

(By WM. PHILLIP SIMMS.)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 19.—Democrats here are smiling broadly over the "tirade" of Vice Admiral Sims against Josephus Daniels, secretary of the navy.

"It is simply the opening of the republican campaign," they charge, "and the beginning of the opposition party's attempt to investigate the democrats out of the white house into political oblivion." A canvass of leading democrats in Washington indicates that this and the composite opinions which follow is the view generally accepted by the administration. They point out a number of things which they say plainly indicate a widespread plot to discredit administration officials in their conduct of the war and if possible to bury the fact that the war was won under a deluge of probes, investigations, legislative inquiries and alleged scandals. Admiral Sims, they point out, might have summed up his entire letter, which democrats charge was to the public and not to Secretary Daniels, in a paragraph, to wit: that he naturally considered his "sector" the most important in the war and in his opinion he should therefore have been given everything asked, regardless of needs elsewhere.

The attitude of Admiral Sims and that of Gen. John J. Pershing, now declared to be a receptive candidate for the republican nomination for the presidency, democratic circles observe, are distinctly at variance. The Admiral's suggestion that the navy department "consider our naval forces as but one relatively small item of an allied naval scheme and that our mission was the protection of all lines of communication and not the United States line of communication alone," they insist, should be studied with Gen. Pershing's reply to Marshal Foch the allied staffs, when he was asked to "consider the American army a relatively small item of an allied scheme," and let the American troops be amalgamated with the British and French.

PROMINENT CITIZENS URGE RIVER BRIDGE

COMPLETED BRIDGE RAISES PROPERTIES VALUES—P. BALLAS

A bridge across the Tennessee river at Albany-Decatur would be worth $2,000,000 to the Twin Cities immediately in the opinion of P. Ballas, owner of the Decatur Cafe and hotel and recent purchaser of a large amount of property here.

"A bridge across the river would easily be worth $2,000,000 to Albany and Decatur," he said. "What do I think of a bridge—just this: On the day the bridge is completed, every dollar's worth of property I own here will be worth just 25 per cent more to me than it is now and I would not consider selling a cent's worth under those figures."

Mr. Ballas' statement is in line with those made by a number of other prominent residents of North Alabama, who are urging the Tennessee valley and particularly Albany and Decatur to take advantage of the natural location of the cities on the great highways of the nation and build a bridge to interest the tourists this way, to open one of the richest sections of Alabama to the north and to cement the valley.

MARTENS ON STAND DENIES TOOK PART IN RED CAMPAIGN

(International News Service.)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 19.—Opposition to Archibald Stevenson, counsel for the Lusk investigating committee when it investigated soviet Russian activities in New York, caused the senate committee appointed to probe alleged bolshevism to proceed without legal assistance this morning. Senator Moses, republican, chairman of the committee, said counsel would be settled later. When Stevenson was submitted as counsel Senator Borah, republican, opposed him. Martens was represented by former senator Hardwick, of Georgia.

Martens was the first witness called. His counsel stated that the Russian envoy had prepared a full and complete statement which he desired to read to the committee. Accompanying the statement would be many documents in English and Russian, Hardwick said. In his statement Martens will deny specifically that he had been identified with or had investigated any movements or propaganda whatever to overthrow the American government, according to his attorney. Hardwick said he himself had supervised the preparation of the statement. Martens, at the suggestion of Senator Borah, was permitted to proceed with his statement.

DUTCH GOVERNMENT ASKS EX-KAISER TO MOVE ON

Reported That William Has Been Requested to Surrender to Allies.

(International News Service.)
PARIS, Jan. 19.—The Dutch minister to France expects Holland to reply to the allies request for the surrender of the kaiser by the end of the week, it was learned today.

(International News Service.)
BRUSSELS, Jan. 19.—A dispatch to the Libre Belgique from The Hague today says the Dutch government has asked the former kaiser to surrender himself to the allies, in the hope of avoiding complications between Holland and the entente.

COHEN BELIEVES DREAM OF YEARS IS COMING TRUE

"It seems that our dream of years is coming true," said A. D. Cohen, prominent Albany merchant today. "For years we have dreamed of a bridge across the Tennessee river here and at last we are actually taking steps looking to the completion of the project."

"The lack of a bridge always has been one of our greatest drawbacks. Why we have not built it years ago is past by undertaking. We have always needed it, but perhaps we really do need it now more than ever. A bridge would open what is part of the richest section of Alabama."

"It would be hard to calculate the enormous value a bridge would be to us. There is no denying the fact that tourists and others are attracted by bridge facilities. It saves them time and trouble in crossing streams. Nature has given us the greatest location possible. It is up to us to take advantage of it."

PLANT AND LIQUOR SEIZED BY U. S.

Flu Hits Chicago Nearly 2,000 Cases

(International News Service.)
CHICAGO, Jan. 19.—The spread of the influenza epidemic in Chicago was unchecked today. The health department reported 1,789 cases in the last 48 hours and 16 deaths. An emergency force of 600 nurses has been arranged for by the health department, 60 of them coming from Detroit.

SHEFFIELD QUIETLY WELCOMES THREE CONGRESSMEN WHO WILL PROBE PLANT

Nitrate City Not Worried Over Coming of the Government Committee.

PROBERS EXPECTED TO MEET SURPRISE OF LIFE

Citizens Believe the Muscle Shoals Nitrogen Enterprises All "Regular."

(By H. FONTAIN LITTLE.)

Sheffield, Ala., Jan. 19.—Nobody is fussed up, excited or alarmed here because of the coming to town Monday of the congressional investigation committee, whose "official" duties it has been announced consists of "investigating alleged irregularities" in the building of the Sheffield-Muscle Shoals nitrogen enterprises.

The committee is composed of one democratic and two republican members of Congress. Representative Graham of Illinois being the chairman. But to even up the score, as it were, another democratic member at the House in the person of Congressman Ed Almon will be in "tow" of the party or else he will "guide" the distinguished visitors about during their sojourn here.

Quite quietly the coming of the congressional committee has been awaited here; indeed, there has been but slight anxiety about it. In fact there is a disposition being manifested to receive the visitors with "wide-stretched arms," which would give assurance of a cordial and informal welcome to the visitors. Of course it is recognized that the "Investigators" are coming here in quest of something dark and irregular in government expenditures in this district. They may find that some things were slightly "disjointed" in the building of the great industries, as might be expected when 5,000 men are hastily brought together on a hurry-up job. But even so, the investigation may lead the committee into a contretemps which may cause them to regret the "folly of their way."

In relation to other war-time projects established by the government, there was certainly less needless waste in the construction of the nitrogen plants in this region, than was the case in similar instances during the war. Erected as they were as a part of this country's vast war programme, these great nitrate industries have their true worth as peacetime industries. In sum, these government plants will forever stand as a monument to the energy and enterprise of the American people.

There is no other feeling locally but that the investigation committee from the halls of congress will meet with the surprise of its life, when it goes through with its tour of "Investigation" in the Sheffield-Muscle Shoals district. The nitrogen plants alone are something worth while for sight-seeing parties; but the Wilson dam enterprise is another more marvelous thing. It is expected that the coming visitors, on investigation bent, will have a desire to see it, even though they are not charged with the "grave" responsibility of making an investigation of the vast work going on in the dam construction. It is ardently hoped that the House members will avail themselves of the opportunity of seeing the Wilson dam—the greatest enterprise undertaken by this government since the completion of the Panama canal.

6-Year-Old Falls From Car When Door Jarred Open

Maurice Sparkman, the six-year old son of Mrs. J. F. Woodard, was thrown from an automobile on Saturday, sustaining painful bruises on his head and face.

The child was standing in the machine when a side door jarred open, precipitating the little boy to the street. Maurice was attended by physicians, who found that the hurts are not serious. He is doing well today.

Foreign Mills Are After 300,000 Bales Cotton; Price High

(International News Service.)
MONTGOMERY, Jan. 19.—The American Cotton association, whose first annual convention will be held here February 17-20, has been asked by a group of foreign mill representatives to secure for them 300,000 bales of low-grade cotton at prices ranging from 35 to 41 cents, according to information divulged by local officials of the association here. The schedule of prices runs from 41 cents for low middling to 35 cents for ordinary.

Anniversary of Lee's Birthday is Observed Here

The anniversary of the birthday of Robert E. Lee, the South's own "Marse Robert," is being observed today. Patriotic programs were rendered in the local schools in commemoration of the great general. The day is a legal holiday in the state and the banks are closed.

Kiddies Hurry to Pay School Fee

One hundred and fifty school children greeted City Clerk Henry Hartun on his arrival at the city hall this morning. They were waiting to pay the school incidental fee for the second term.

One thousand memberships in the Albany Chamber of Commerce will be sold Tuesday night at the rousing get-together meeting, which will feature a free banquet to be served in the civic chamber's rooms in the Colonial building, officials of the body declared today.

Representatives of corporations today were asked to come to the meeting prepared to commit them to the limit. The chamber expects to raise $10,000 for a greater Albany and following the launching of the membership campaign a number of other projects, now planned, will be discussed. One of the movements calls for the completion of a modern $200,000 hotel in Albany. Others have for their objects the location of several industries.

Charles H. Eyster, president of the chamber, announced today that the organization is on the lookout for a live wire secretary. Several inquiries already have been received and more are expected.

The following statement regarding the banquet was issued today:

Free Booster Supper

To be served by Ladies of Eastern Star, under auspices of Albany Chamber of Commerce.

Colonial Building—Tuesday night January 20th, 1920, eight o'clock.

Everyone Invited

Doctors! If you are not there, we will expect to hear of a funeral next day.

Lawyers! If you are not there, we will, on the morrow, extend our sympathy to the poor sucker who got skinned.

Merchants! If you are not there we will know that you are selling by the back door route, and don't want our trade.

Laboring Man! If you are not there, we will know that you are working over time, and keeping your fellow man out of employment next day.

Ministers! If you are not there, we will know that you have spent an evening with Satan, and are using the night to repent.

Real Estate and Insurance Men! If you are not there, we will know that you are selling off stock to a widow with six infants.

Candidates! If you are not there, we will know that you don't want to be elected.

So, if you don't come, three hundred of your friends will know what you are doing, and although the Board of Directors will try to protect you, we know your absence will be noted, and probably called attention to.

We are going to have a good supper, refreshing drinks, entertaining talks, sell 1000 memberships, advertise Albany to the world, give Albany new life and growth so we can begin to gather the harvest in the Fall.

Free supper—Tuesday night, January 20th, 1920, 8 p. m. Colonial Building.

Albany Chamber of Commerce By President and Board of Directors.

(Note)—All representatives of corporations come prepared to commit them to the limit.

Low Temperatures First of the Week

Low temperatures are the prediction for the first half of the week in the government's weekly forecast, issued today. It follows:

For the South Atlantic and East Gulf States: During the first half of the week fair weather is indicated; second half, occasional rains. Temperatures will be slightly below normal.

Second Week of Court is Begun

The second week of Circuit court, Judge Kyle presiding, opened this morning. A large number of civil cases were disposed of last week and the court faces a heavy docket for hearing this week.

$25,000 SPENT BY LOCAL COMMISS ON IMPROVING ITS WAREHOUSE SPACE

Two New "Sheds" Are Completed and Other Improvements Are Planned.

COMPLETED BUILDINGS HAVE 5,000 CAPACITY

Arrival of Material Awaited for Construction of Additional Warehouses.

The Churchill compress today announced it had completed improvements to its large plant here, costing in the neighborhood of $25,000. The improvements include the erection of two new warehouses, with a capacity of 2500 bales each. Other sheds will be built as soon as material for their construction arrives.

The completed buildings are 200x250 feet each and are modern in all details. Each is equipped with automatic fire proof doors and are otherwise protected from flames.

"We have completed two of the sheds contemplated," L. H. Bullard, popular manager of the congress announced today. "As soon as material arrives we expect to construct others. The buildings are well protected against fire loss and are modern."

The buildings are of brick, wood and metal. The other sheds, now planned, will correspond to the ones just completed in architectural construction.

The local compress is one of the largest in the South and annually handles millions of dollars worth of cotton. The rapid expansion of the local cotton market has made necessary increased warehouse facilities and in addition to the new ones built by the compress and the ones completed, Hughes and Tidwell are constructing a $10,000 warehouse on Moulton street and a Decatur syndicate has plans for a $100,000 structure just north of the compress.

POWHATAN IS SAFE WIRES THE SKIPPER

(International News Service.)
BOSTON, Jan. 19.—At 11 o'clock this morning this radio from Commander Randall of the Powhatan was received: "O. K. now. Water not flowing in. Passengers uncomfortable on account of no heat or light. Need no further assistance."

AID REACHES STEAMERS

(International News Service.)
BOSTON, Jan. 19.—Wireless word that aid had reached five American steamers in distress in the fierce winter gale lashing the Atlantic seaboard, was received at the navy yard here today. The transport Powhatan, with 471 persons aboard, which became helpless 500 miles off New York, sent word that she was proceeding under her own steam to Halifax, Nova Scotia. The White Star liner Cedric was standing by. The U. S. Shipping board ship Westcomb also was near by.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE IS UP AND DOING

Under its new administration, the Albany Chamber of Commerce is starting out to do things. It is opening its membership campaign with a free banquet on tomorrow night, when the well-fell citizenship will be asked to go down the line for a greater city. A ten thousand dollar budget is one of the aims of the organization, and it may be well said that unless this is secured the public need not expect too much of the officers of the institution, for the lessons of the past have shown very conclusively that an alert and patriotic president, backed by a few live directors, cannot do much, at best. It takes money to run a commercial organization, just as it does everything. A paid secretary is an absolute prerequisite to accomplishment, and men who are big enough to get results do not work for nothing. Then, there should also be a few dollars in the treasury with which to take care of incidentals. A secretary who is compelled to devote most of his time to collecting his salary is doomed to failure in advance.

The Daily is glad to note that the Chamber of Commerce is outlining an ambitious program. It should have the support of every person who is interested in a greater city, and who realizes that opportunity is knocking just a little harder at the door of Albany than it ever did before. A big attendance at the free-banquet will be a happy augury of later achievement.

THE TWIN CITIES AS THEATRE CITIES

Of course all the folks at home know that the Twin Cities, from the theatre standpoint, lead all the rest of their class. They almost lead Nashville and some of the other somnolent places that claim to be metropolitan. But perhaps there are readers of the Daily who reside in the neighboring towns or in the rural sections who are not so well informed in regard to what is being done here to afford the public a close up of the most noted Thespians of the silent drama and the articular stage. For their information, it can be truthfully said that the programs offered at the local theatres—and there are four of them to choose from—are most excellent. Three or four feature pictures in the same day is something to boast of. And aside from this many road shows of real merit are booked here, and there is Keith vaudeville twice a week and tabloid shows as often as they can squeeze in between other attractions. Several of the theatres have house orchestras. In fact, everything that should be found in a first class theatrical city is here.

If the outside public would liberally patronize the shows in Albany and Decatur, the result would be that the local theatres would continue to give the best that is produced and would afford this entire section a varied bit of entertainment that they would otherwise obtain only by spending a bunch of their good money and much time in visiting Birmingham, Nashville, Chattanooga or Memphis.

WHY NOT REPORT ANOTHER "RED?"

Sympathetic persons, and especially those that own stock in the various banks that have made loans on liquor in bond, are suggesting that the Congress of the United States purchase all spirits frumment now in storage. The plea is made that the owners and their backers are entitled to this protection, and that the government has no moral right to confiscate this property. It is also suggested that Uncle Sam become a great and cautious dispenser, doling out the more 60,000,000 gallons left over for "medicinal purposes." A plan like this has several serious handicaps to popularity. In the first place, the tax payers do not care to make so heavy an investment in contraband goods, and in the second place there would be too many charges of favoritism in filling prescriptions.

Instead of becoming a wholesale purchasing agent, would it not be better if the government would depose this red eye with the same ruthless these two red evangels for harm was small compared with that of their old friend John Barleycorn. They were far less welcome abroad than would be their liquid ally. If compulsion is to be shown towards the distiller, why not let Europe pay the freight?

IT IS ALL EXPLAINED

When J. Emory Pierce, editor and owner of the Huntsville Daily Times, suddenly bounded into fame in the financial world, so suddenly getting into the class of Pierpont Morgan and Rockefeller and Carnegie and the Fords, when he announced his purpose to erect a skyscraper for an office building to cost $200,000 or $250,000 there was a deal of speculation among the editorial fraternity of the state, and the question was being asked, "How did he do it?" Anticipating the interest and excitement among the craft that followed the announcement and the anxious query, H. D. Harkreader, editor of the Albany-Decatur Daily, a nearby city, and who has been a close observer of the business methods of his brother editor in Huntsville, hastens to explain it all and removes any doubt that might have been entertained by the layman that Editor Pierce had looted some bank somewhere and somehow, or had struck an oil well. And this is Editor Harkreader's simple explanation:

"The gentle reader need not infer from this announcement that the newspaper business in Huntsville is so flourishing as to enable mere editors to erect great skyscrapers at random. On the contrary, it is the same over there as over here—a mediocre recompense follows much work and diligent economy. Editor J. Emory Pierce of the Times, however, was long since bitten by the bug of accumulation, and has that sixth sense possessed by but few members of the Fourth Estate—the business instinct. He is looking far into the future, is financing with the fearlessness of a Rockefeller, and is doing a thing that the average member of his profession would not have the hardihood to attempt. He is also serving Huntsville, in that he is helping to solve its housing problem, one which acutely confronts every growing municipality with a desire to expand."—Montgomery Journal.

Now that the war has been so gloriously won, and the methods to win the war adopted by the United States have borne such excellent fruit, why is it necessary for various naval and military leaders to air their views as to what should have been done? Admiral Sims is one of the greatest of the great, but his criticism of the navy department is unwarranted. Secretary Daniels, a politician, believed that it was best to protect American shores at all costs, knowing the tendency of the public to weaken in their support of the war. Admiral Sims, purely a fighter, wanted the ships where he thought they would do the most good—on the other side. Both were well justified in their positions, and the conflict of views is merely an incident.

Emma Goldman, on arriving in Europe, is reported as saying that she would get along with the soviet government, as she would not preach anarchy there. The criminals of the type of this woman have more respect for the laws of radical Russia than they have for those of the United States, it is time for this government to tighten up in its policy towards the agents of destruction.

FIRST OF SUNDAY NIGHT SERVICES WELL ATTENDED

The initial Sunday night church service at the Delite Theatre under the auspices of the Westminster Presbyterian church, opened promptly at 8 o'clock last night with practically every one of the 250 seats taken. Rev. L. F. Goodwin, who preached the sermon and had charge of the meeting, announced that on next Sunday night, it was decided to begin the services with a sacred concert at 7:15, the preaching service to follow promptly at 7:30.

Last night an orchestra-choir furnished the instrumental music and led the hymns, which were old and familiar selections.

Immediately preceding the sermon, with Mrs. B. B. Pickens as accompanist, Mrs. A. A. Hardage sang a solo "The Holy City." Rev. Goodwin announced as his text Gen. 35:3. "And let us arise, and go up to Bethel; and I will make there an altar unto God, who answered me in the day of my distress, and was with me in the way which I went."

The speaker said that preceding the text, there was an account of where God had reminded Jacob, of a promise made 30 years previous, and ordered him to erect an altar to him at Bethel. The speaker said, that while we knew our duty in a way, without anybody telling us, that it was also true that we needed to be reminded constantly of our obligations. He said that it was very easy to forget sacred obligations in times of prosperity just as Jacob did, and that we should value every means of grace, that helped hold us to our word and sacred promises.

It was Cole's who twenty years ago invented the now famous system of Hot Blast Combustion.
It was Cole's who coined the words—Hot Blast and the words—Air Tight.
It is Cole's who have built up a world wide reputation for fuel saving (actually amounting to thousands of tons of fuel yearly).
It is Cole's who are willing and anxious to put their solid reputation behind a guarantee for positive fuel saving.
It is Cole's who are offering you this beautiful Down Draft Range with the same Air Tight and Hot Blast principles of construction that are found in Cole's Air Tight and in Cole's Hot Blast Heater, coupled with an oven construction, warming closet construction and choice of materials and design, superior workmanship, and finish such as are found in no other moderate priced range.
Remember—when you think of Hot Blast, you think of Cole's. When you think of Cole's, you know that it is the stove you want. Also when you think of Hot Blast and Cole's, think of us.
We have this Cole's Down Draft Range set up, come in and see it now.

ALABAMA FOLKS ADD THEIR TESTIMONY

Salamanca, Ala.—"My wife used Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription during expectancy. She had been having a great deal of trouble and used the 'Prescription' with wonderful results. She had practically no suffering, where before she had suffered intensely. No one can tell in words the good the 'Prescription' did my wife; it is simply a wonderful medicine. Every woman in the land ought to use it."—A. HUDGINS.

What Doctors Advise
Selma, Ala.—"I was in a very miserable state of health. My doctor told me he thought Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription would benefit me if I would give it a trial, and I was strengthened before I had taken half of the first bottle. I took two more bottles and was restored to perfect health and had a fine healthy child, too."—Mrs. ANNIE LOU SEARS, 1930 Griffin Ave.

Kidney and Bladder Trouble
Montgomery, Ala.—"In one week's treatment with Dr. Pierce's Anuria Tablets the relief I have obtained is really marvelous. I have been miserable with kidney and bladder troubles for years and have tried every medicine recommended to me, but nothing has ever acted on me like 'Anurie.' I have been able to rest all night and it is such a comfort not to be distressed with the stinging and burning, as I had been so long. I actually feel like a different woman, my kidneys are normal and it seems to have improved my entire person. Any one suffering with kidney or bladder trouble should not hesitate in giving so worthy a remedy as 'Anurie' a trial."—Mrs. IDA RAWLS, 746 Bell St.

BUT ONE LEADS SOUTH

So many countries of the earth,
So many lands of such great worth,
So stately, tall and fair they shine—
So royal, all—but one is mine.

So many paths that come and go,
Busy and freighted, to and fro,
So many that I never see
That still bring gifts and friends to me.

So many paths that go and come,
But one leads South—and that leads home.

Oh, I would rather see the face
Of that dear land a little space
Than have earth's richest, fairest things;

My own, or touch the hands of kings
I'm homesick for it! When at night
The silent road runs still and white,
Runs onward, southward, still and fair.

Essex Sets World 24-Hour Road Mark of 1061 Miles

Unmatched Endurance Proof Made by Stock Essex Over Snow-Swept Iowa Dirt Roads

Already driven more than 12,000 miles an Essex stock touring car has established a new world 24-hour mark of 1061 road miles, over frozen, snow-bound, dirt roads of Eastern Iowa.

Not a stop was made for repairs or adjustments. Running day and night, Essex completed the gruelling test without a halt except for fuel and oil. Not even a tire change was made.

The average speed was 47.3 miles per hour.

Essex Also Holds the World's 50-Hour Mark

An Essex stock chassis also holds the world's 50-hour endurance mark of 3037 miles, made under A. A. A. supervision, on the Cincinnati speedway.

In three starts, the same Essex ran a total of 5870 miles in 94 hours, 22 minutes, actual driving time, averaging more than a mile a minute.

Doesn't It Settle the Light Car Question?

Prior to Essex light weight in an automobile meant principally moderate price, and perhaps gasoline and oil economy.

Light cars had no distinction of speed or power. Buyers did not expect fine appearance and performance.

The coming of the Essex changed that. It brought fine car quality, speed, power and endurance to the light car field. Its performance was matched only in the large costly car class.

Is it any wonder that Essex has made a world's sales record of more than $35,000,000 paid for 22,000 Essex cars, in its first year?

We are already booking orders for spring delivery. There is no possibility that all buyers can be served. Now is the time to make your reservation.

Mocking Bird Is a Fighter.

The mocking bird is the only bird I have ever seen drive away a cat; he will peck and dart about so fast and bewilderingly that the cat becomes confused, and seems not to realize that her assailant is a mere bird, but hurries off in a panic to escape such a dangerous foe. He even distrusts the clumsy old turkey buzzard, who has hunched down in the yard to investigate the garbage can to see if by any chance the cover has been left off, and the buzzard, like the cat, never tries to defend itself, but sidesteps and dodges and finally flees from its small enemy—never seeming to think that one sweep of its big wing would grind it to dust.—Exchange.

Land Worse Than Worthless.

The desert of Gobi in central Asia, where bone-dryness has been the fashion for thousands of years, is also a difficult place to obtain a drink. Its largest streams either vanish in the sand or empty into salty lakes. Caravan routes from China to Russia are still important trade channels, for the Russians insist that a sea voyage destroys the flavor of tea. This great arid waste is 1,500 miles wide and 400 miles deep and the almost rainless years since antiquity have parched its sands to the dryness that drifts in gyrating sand waves and snuffs out vegetation with its hot breath.

CHRISTIANITY THE BIGGEST FACTOR IN MATERIAL WEALTH SPEAKER DECLARES

Dr. Henderson Points to Example Furnished by Hawaiian Islands.

PROMINENT LAYMAN DELIVERS ADDRESS

Tells of Work Being Done by Laymen of the Baptist Church

Among its other claims on humanity, Christianity was named as the greatest single factor known, in the production of material wealth by Dr. J. T. Henderson, of Knoxville, Tenn., in his eloquent address from the Central Baptist church pulpit yesterday morning.

"It has been calculated," said the speaker, "that the bill of a person in heathen countries is about $10.00 a year for merchandise, of different kinds, while in Christian countries such a person would consume not less than $100.00 a year. A hundred years ago the Hawaiian islands, while in a state of absolute heathenism, were practically valueless from a commercial standpoint. Now, since those islands have come under Christian civilization, in trade alone, they have been worth 12 times what it cost to Christianize them."

"The last thing you people would think of doing now, of course would be to leave the Twin Cities and move to Knoxville, but if the churches should all go out of business here, you would all want to move to my town or some other one at once."

"And in a churchless town property values crumble away until you would almost have to give your homes away when you got ready to move."

"Regardless of his personal stand in the matter, the man who does not support the kingdom of God on earth, is not acting justly to society. A man smites the very hand that feeds him, when he casts any thing in the way of the church. The kingdom of God is not a charity by any means, but it is the biggest business enterprise in all the world."

When Dr. Wilks introduced the speaker he said that he was not a preacher, but a layman; that every layman ought to be a preaching layman.

In opening Dr. Henderson said that the Southern Baptist Layman's movement, of which he was Secretary, was a revival among laymen which has been going on for 11 years. It is directed by 40 laymen throughout the Southern convention, with 15 of its members resident in Knoxville. It stands for loyalty to the pastors; business in religion and religion in business, and for a deeper consecration of men to the aims of the Kingdom.

It was declared that the organization taught that the layman had just as good a right to behave himself as the preacher, and that if laymen were to cheat and take advantage, then ministers could as well do the same.

The speaker said that he had often found that the men who were the strongest in a business way and intellectually, were often weaklings from a moral and religious standpoint.

In this connection a famous quotation declaring that the greatest need of all needs was men—men with opinions and a will who lived above suspicion and were, uncrowned, in public duty and private thinking.

In this connection the speaker quoted a number of well known laymen on the need and power of Christianity in the world. A long quotation was made from the memoirs of Henry Watterson, where that veteran editor declared emphatically that in Christianity alone, can the future have any hope or promise.

"Unless the spirit of Jesus is dominant in the life of a man or a nation neither need hope to endure," declared the speaker. Dr. Henderson set out four discoveries that he had made in his last few years; first, men who desire the highest success, can well afford to be Christian men; second, "intimate relations with God" are necessary; third, that the Kingdom of God is the biggest business ever dreamed of; fourth human cooperation in it enterprises.

In connection with the last point the speaker quoted the scripture describing how the Kingdom should be brought about, which ends with the inquiry—"But how shall they preach unless they be sent."

It was declared that the man who put up the capital to send a missionary, was as much a missionary as the man who actually did the work or the foreign field. "If you cannot go across with the big guns, you can come across with your funds" was one of the many catchy phrases used in driving home the need of all feeling personal responsibility.

The message of Watterson was especially impressed, that Christ and Him crucified is the one hope and the only hope, that democracy is only a side issue and that without the sources and resources of the Gospel available the world had nothing but blackness to look forward to in the future.

The other two churches, at which Dr. Henderson spoke were the South Side Baptist church at night, and the East Albany Baptist yesterday afternoon. The distinguished visitor had spoken at the First Baptist church of Decatur, while on a previous visit.

Norway's Building in London.
The British dominions now have great buildings in London, where their activity is centralized and proclaimed to the world. So far no foreign nation has an establishment of this kind, but Norway has acquired Victory house, Charing Cross, where Norwegian activity in London will be centralized. The sum paid for the building and site is $1,125,000, the whole amount being raised by public subscription in Norway.

United States Wireless Stations.
The government shore wireless stations numbered 135 on June 30, 1918, of which eighty-eight were in continental United States, twenty in Alaska, nineteen in the Philippines three in the canal zone, two in Hawaii and one each in Porto Rico, Guam and Samoa. The government ship stations total 470.

COWS KNEW THEIR MISTRESS

Woman Who Had Lost Pets Had No Trouble at all in Proving Ownership of Them.

A happy reunion took place at the union stockyards, Herr's Island, Pittsburgh, an exchange declares, late the other evening, when Mrs. P. J. Riley of Fox Chase road, O'Hara township, rescued her four stolen cows, awaiting their doom at the hands of the executioner.

During a heavy rainstorm the stolen afternoon the animals were stolen from the pasture and driven to the stockyards and sold. County detectives traced the cows, but among the hundreds of other "hostiles" were unable to identify them. Mrs. Riley was sent for. As she stepped into the big pen a stampede among the animals for a time threatened serious consequences. When it had subsided, the detectives who were with Mrs. Riley were amazed to see four of the cows rushing toward the woman. Brushing their heads against her shoulder, the animals zoned and moaned soft expressions of relief. Overjoyed, Mrs. Riley grasped each around the neck in turn, stroking their glossy coats and petting them.

When their mistresses left the big stock pen, the cows followed her as obediently as well-trained dogs, and when last seen were vending their way to their home on Fox Chase road with their mistresses.

Valuable New Metal.

A new invention, called conducting aluminum, which is said to be creating a profound impression, has been made by Dr. George Giulini, the most famous expert in the aluminum trade, states Consul Philip Holland, Basel, Switzerland, in a recent report. This new metal is produced by putting the ordinary aluminum through a special patented process, by which it acquires the same mechanical qualities and capacities as bronze, copper and brass without changing its specific weight. It is said that the price of the new metal can be kept within very low limits, so that, even at the pre-war prices of other metals, it will be able, by reason of its smaller specific weight, to compete with copper and brass very favorably. The fact that the new metal is a conductor will make it especially in demand in the electrical trade.

To Clean Copper.

Half a lemon dipped in salt will clean copper boilers, etc., as well as oxalic acid will.

Why Be Pale? Take Pepto-Mangan

Pepto-Mangan Increases and Enriches the Supply of Red Blood—Builds Strength.

RESTORES COLOR and APPETITE

Sold in Liquid and Tablet Form—Both Alike in Medicinal Qualities.

Why do pallid, thin, listless, easily-exhausted men and women continue to make themselves, and those around them, unhappy by that condition when they can so easily overcome it?

Unless a man or woman is suffering from some serious, deep-seated ailment, a prompt remedy that will overcome that continual tired, worn-out, sluggish feeling is within easy reach.

Pepto-Mangan contains just the elements needed to change thin, watery blood to good, red blood. Pepto-Mangan builds rich, red blood, enabling it to carry strength and vigor to every part of the body.

In a short time the great change is noticeable. The cheeks fill out and attain the wholesome, rosy complexion of health, the appetite returns, the eyes sparkle, the step quickens, the entire system is filled with renewed vigor.

Pepto-Mangan is offered in two forms, liquid and tablet. Both possess exactly the same medicinal qualities.

All druggists sell Pepto-Mangan. Look for the name "Gude's" on the package. If "Gude's" is not there it is not Pepto-Mangan.—Advertisement.

"ZIRON IS A GOOD MEDICINE"

Says Rock City, Ala. Gentleman, After Having Given It Considerable Trial.

Ziron is a new scientific combination of pure, inorganic, official, U. S. Pharmacopoeia iron, with the hypophosphites of lime and soda and other valuable tonic ingredients, recommended by the best medical authorities in the treatment of anemic conditions.

Ziron helps to put iron into your blood and this helps to build strength for you when you are pale, weak, nervous, depressed.

Read what Mr. Sidney Fry, of Rock City, Ala., says, and then try Ziron. He makes the following over a week ago I used Ziron for the first time. I was troubled with indigestion and had a spell of weakness. Ziron helped both troubles. I felt stronger and my stomach quit hurting. I really feel that Ziron is a good medicine. It surely helped me.

Your druggist will sell you Ziron on a guarantee that if the first bottle does not benefit you, he will refund the money you paid him.

FINE "GRIDIRON" AT COBLENZ

American Soldiers Stationed There Have Facilities for Almost Every Kind of Sport.

Elaborate preparations were made at Coblenz, Germany, for the football season. Grounds and stadiums which were only partly finished a year ago have been made permanent playing fields, and many of them compare favorably with the best college gridirons in the United States.

The most elaborately finished ground is in Coblenz, known as "Carnival Island." It was on this ground that the Third army championships were decided last season, but the ground at that time was not in as good condition as it is today. Neither were there proper facilities, such as dressing rooms.

At this island there are now two regular baseball fields, two football fields, a golf course of nine holes, a polo ground, a quarter-mile cinder track, with 220 yard straightaway, and outdoor basketball courts. On another part is a ring for horse shows and nine tennis courts.

Suitable bleachers to accommodate 5,000 spectators have been built, and there also are a large number of properly equipped dressing rooms with showers, rubbing tables and store rooms.

Not only at Coblenz are there grounds available for the soldiers, but at Andernach, Montabaur, and Neuwied the old grounds left by the A. E. F. have been taken over by the U. M. C. A. and enlarged and remade in every particular.

PROBABLY THOUGHT A LOT

But Really, Under the Circumstances, There Was Nothing the Actor-Manager Could Say.

The late Oscar Hammerstein, who had a genius for advertising his theatrical enterprises, used to tell a story about an English actor-manager's attempt to follow his example.

"My conferee," Mr. Hammerstein would say, "was having a new theater built in London. Casting about for some good way to advertise it, he decided that an admirable scheme would be to have the workmen while excavating for the foundation—come across Roman antiquities. So he stole down to the operation at dead of night and deposited a number of costly, genuine Roman antiquities just below the surface of the spot being excavated.

"The next morning he arrived in haste to hear the news of the great find and report it to the journals. Seeing that the men had already dug well below his hidden treasure, he said: "Good morning, foreman. Anything interesting this morning?"

"No, sir, not a thing, sir," the foreman answered. "The actor-manager looked at the bulging pockets of the workmen and said nothing. What could he say?"

Scaw Fell Pike.

Scaw Fell Pike, Cumberland's mountain summit, is to be the property of Englishmen in perpetuity. The highest hill of England is the very noble gift made by Lord Leconfield to the men of Cumbria who fought in the war, and as a token of gratitude to those who gave their lives for the cause of the world's liberty. Truly a gift in the spirit of Ruskin and one which causes the Manchester Guardian to utter deepest appreciation—a gift, it says, through which "even we common people may get a momentary entry into the ecstasies of the poets and see the earth and everything in it mystically appareled with 'the glory and the freshness of a dream.'" Scaw Fell Pike has the venerable distinction of being among the most ancient mountains of Europe, outdistancing the Alps in point of years.

Shifting Misery.

C. Winslow, a Texe Haute business man, recently went back to his home town for a visit. While there he met an elderly village character in the street. The man was bent and complaining. "Why, how are you?" began Mr. Winslow, genially.

"Not very well, fact I'm pretty poorly," whined the man. "You see I have the most terrible misery here," and he indicated his stomach.

"But I thought it was in your neck when I was home last," Mr. Winslow commented.

"Yes, it was there then," the man agreed, "but you see since then I swallowed that misery and it's been in my stomach ever since."

Boom in Lobsters.

Very extensive lobster catches are reported off the eastern coast of Canada. Recently the boats were taking these faster than the factories could pack them. The catch was divided over the various canning factories. One boat, belonging to a well-known fleet, took as many as 4,400 fish. A resident of Escumac reports that he put 9,000 live lobsters, which he was unable to pack at the time, into a boat which he had transformed into a cage, and sunk it in order to keep the fish alive until such time as he could use them.

Chinese Trade.

The Foochow branch of the American Association of China was recently formed. The new organization will largely care for American commercial interests, which are rapidly expanding in the Foochow consular district, and will take the place of an American chamber of commerce, the number of local Americans being too small to support a chamber of commerce.

Plaster Casts.

When plaster casts become soiled, dip them into cold liquid starch. When they are dry, brush the starch off and the dirt will come off with it.

AMUSEMENTSA TRIBUTE TO FANNIE

HURST-PRINCESS TODAY

"The genius of the modern short story" is the tributary title given to Fannie Hurst by Kathleen Norris, famous author, in a recent article in Cosmopolitan Magazine.

Miss Hurst, creator of the story of "A Petal on the Current," which has been made into a film play featuring Mary MacLaren, has written scores of successful stories and novels. Of her Kathleen Norris says, in part:

"Whenever I think of Fannie Hurst I think of the word 'genius.' Like everybody else I have my own private definition of genius. A meretricious person is one who adapts his product to the market; he gives the public what the public wants, and is rewarded in a greater or less degree. But the genius can give only one thing, and that is so much a part of himself that he cannot give more and will not give less."

In "A Petal on the Current" the genius of Fannie Hurst is present in all its strength and glory. The picture version of the story, a faithful reproduction of the tale itself, by Waldemar Young, will be shown at the Princess Theatre today.

HAWAIIAN PLAY MAKES AT HIT AT THE COLUMBIA

An Able Cast Presents "A Daughter of the Sun" to Large Crowd.

"A Daughter of the Sun" by Lorin Howard and Ralph T. Kettering was presented to a full house at the Columbia last night. The scene of the play was laid in Hawaii, near Honolulu, the various scenes and costumes of the players bearing out the idea in splendid form. The plot was simple in form yet so well conceived and carried out by the various players that the audience never felt that any one part was played particularly to further the action of the whole. For his reason those who attended the performance were very much pleased and enjoyed the play immensely.

Miss Blanche Cook, as Virgie Lee, the girl from Broadway, easily won first place in the hearts of the audience. Her vivacity of manner, her naive way, with its original presentation of her part, made her easily the star of the performance. Jean Marendon, as Dr. Oagi Sankua, a Japanese scientist, as the villain presented this part in a way both realistic and entertaining. Mable Monroe as the daughter of the sun and Glenn Coulter, as Dr. Edward Grant, handled their difficult parts of heroine and hero in an excellent manner.

Laura Hill, as Hope Clay, and Williams Howatt as Colonel Richmond of a motion of a new trial. The entire company, including the Hawaiian singers and dancers, were considered to be extremely good. The various selections rendered by these artists on the stringed instruments were enthusiastically received by the audience.—The Bristol Herald Courier (Tuesday, Jan. 6, 1920.)
